POST SCRIPT:
During the Allied Occupation, the City was administered by its own National Council. On 26 April 1919 the Council handed over its powers to the representative of Italy.
Gabriele d'Annunzio, fearing that Italy would eventually hand over the City to Yugoslavia (thus complying with the Secret Treaty of London) took over the City in a bloodless coup on 12 Sept. 1919.
And so began a new era... and a new postal administration -
